WE NOMINATE

Raymond Alfred Mondone, the fourth Chief of Police born chief, now 54 years old, became the eighth, and in the Borough's 144-year history, who in the past two months has done more than all three of his predecessors in giving a demanding municipality the kind of a police department warranted by a per capita expenditure equal to—or exceeding—the amount spent for police protection by the residents of most American communities of similar size. While no public agency can aspire for complete satisfaction of the desires of those it attempts to serve, it is significant that in the past six weeks the "Borough Fathers" have received a half-dozen commendations for Chief Mondone and his associates.

Mondone's designation last March as head of a 24-man staff, a 300 per cent jump in manpower since the department was organized by ordinance in 1922, came within days of the 31st anniversary of his appointment to the force. It was on March 15, 1928, that the Italian "bottom," man in the department and entered upon a career which he describes as "second to none" from the point of view of living up to his own conception of what a "good cop" can do (and must mean) in a community saddled with problems attributable to unplanned growth and development.

Advancement in the public service is said to be slow. For a period of 18 years Mondone held forth as a patrolman and twice weathered what the Armed Forces call "the process of being passed over." He was promoted to a sergeantcy in 1946, became lieutenant (second-in-command) 11 years later and from last September 1st until early March was Acting Chief.

Some ten weeks after Mayor and Council had accepted the "MacNamara Report," with its far-reaching recommendations for strengthening a department lamentably weak in "executive and administrative control," he was elevated to his present post.

A resident of the Princeton Area for the past half-century, the son of a railroad pensioner and the oldest in a family of nine children, Mondone is remembered by old-timers as one of the few baseball players "who ever hit Baker Rink on the bounce from home-plate on Brokaw Field"—a prodigious 600-foot wallop. Family finances made it necessary for him to forego formal education beyond the eighth grade, but he continued to gain baseball accolades, often walking home-and-back from Rocky Hill in order to earn several dollars a night as all-star catcher and clean-up hitter.

Mondone, the graduate of a number of police training programs and currently enrolled in an FBI-endorsed "school" for municipal police chiefs, is an enthusiast when it comes to strengthening his department's standards of "professionalism" and "specialization." Denied any semblance of professional training until after he had actually rounded out a decade on the force, he feels strongly that Princeton can best build for the future by insisting that the members of his command be given every opportunity to capitalize upon "education for use."

For dedicated service to the Borough of Princeton and its environs; for translating into fact the suggestions contained in the "MacNamara Report"; for strengthening a community's faith in those it pays to serve; he is Town Topics' nominee for

FACING THE FUTURE

Township to Study Master Plan.
 Princeton Township will face the future next week. Wednesday night at 8:30 in Township Hall, a public hearing will be held on the Master Plan and if the Planning Board adopts it, its provisions will affect the Township's growth for the next 15 to 20 years.

Township officials report that there is less public interest in the Plan than they expected.
 The engineer's office says that only about 15 people have asked for copies and the clerk's office about 30 or 40.

Last Wednesday, 15 families came to Township Hall to discuss with Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman the possibility that proposed roads might traverse their properties. The Township had informed about 60 property owners who might be affected by new roads. Said the mayor: "They seemed relaxed about the whole situation."

The Master Plan, proposes an expenditure of $2,000,000, financed by municipal bonds issued at the rate of $400,000 a year from 1960 to 1980 (the remaining $600,000 to be provided in cash). Township officials suggested that residents might be slaying quietly at home with pencil and paper, planning to descend en masse and in force on the Planning Board Wednesday night.

Major proposals of the Master Plan in regard to roads, recreation and overall concept, were carried in TOWN TOPICS in its issues last February and March.
 The Plan also makes concrete suggestions in the field of schools, utilities, municipal buildings, zoning and financing.

The Plan foresees a Township

PHS Choir 1, DAR 0

Congressman Frank Thompson Jr., Democratic Representative from this district, cast his vote this week for the Princeton High School Choir on matters of "foreign policy" and suggested that the Daughters of the American Revolution cease taking a stand on matters of international import.

Noting that last week's DAR convention in Washington passed resolutions condemning the UN, foreign aid and cultural exchange, Mr. Thompson declared that its members
 "do more for the nation's mil-linary business than for its foreign policy." He complimented them on their pretty hats, but found them generally "out of step with much of today's world."

With reference to the projected Moscow trip of the high school choir this summer, the Congressman declared, "These youngsters would do the United States more good in one concert than the DAR will do in its next 200 conventions." (For further thoughts of the good will thus to be gained, see Report from the Mayor, page 20.)

population of 17,000-21,000 by 1975.
 (Estimated 1956 population: 7,595)
 One factor contributing to growth, incidentally, is that almost half the females living in the Township are in the 15-41 year-old childbearing group.

Following 8,438 children in Township schools by 1975 (there are now 1,312), the Plan suggests two more schools, in addition to the Johnson and Riverside buildings now under construction.
 (These would be enlarged, according to the Plan, to accommodate the building of a new school would be built in or near the Community Park development which the authors of the Plan suggest for the area around Township Hall, the Township Garage and Community Gardens. The second would either be near Stony Brook and Princeton Pike, in the Herrington Road area or between the Great Road and Cherry Hill.

Additional Expansion Charted.
 The Master Plan suggests that Township Hall be expanded, or a new building erected near the present Hall, and that a new fire station be built, possibly near the corner of Mountain Avenue and the Great Road. The Plan points out that some Township areas beyond the 1.5 mile fire station limit recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The extension of the public sewer system to all built-up Township areas is another Master Plan recommendation. "The use of septic tanks in areas lacking public service constitutes in the consultant's opinion an inadequate means of waste disposal."

For Township taxpayers, the most meaningful part of the Master Plan may well be its continued emphasis on a broader tax base. "Lack of diversity in the tax base is the only basic deficiency in the Township's fiscal structure," the Plan states. Nearly 80 percent of all tax revenue comes from residential property taxes.

The Plan recommends an increase of 530 percent in the amount of land zoned for research laboratories so that these

We Agree— Ask Your Doctor!

Mail order vitamin houses urge you to ask your doctor about their product — and so do we. We suggest you ask what contributions such firms have made to the advancement of medicine.

Ask, too, who is responsible for medical progress that has made possible new vaccines and life-saving antibiotics so helpful to mankind. The answer is first-line drug manufacturing firms, such as Parke, Davis; Eli Lilly; Squibb, Abbott, Upjohn, Lederle and others.

ALL VITAMINS ARE NOT THE SAME! Ask your doctor to prescribe vitamins made by a recognized pharmaceutical firm, not something peddled through the mails that lacks the quality you need. Remember that the integrity of the manufacturer often spells the difference between a type of vitamin that turns your stomach, and one that can be tolerated and absorbed by the human body.

organizations can take some of the tax load off residential properties. About 200 acres is the suggested figure. If the Township had research labs in the two proposed areas — the northeastern section near River Road and the present research area, enlarged—then 17 percent of the community's tax revenue could come from commercial and research sources instead of the 5.7 percent derived now.

"For Want of a Better Name," Whether Township residents will turn out in number for the Master Plan hearing is a question for the future. About 30 residents were on hand Tuesday night to confer with John Mount and William Marvel, Township Committeemen, and Calvin Schofield, Township engineer, on the subject of "What we call sewage, for want of a better name," in the words of Mr. Schofield.

The area in question is Herndon Circle and Herndon Road, a section which Mr. Marvel characterized as "combining the greatest seriousness with the greatest possibility of doing something about it." The Township plans to put sewers in the area, running the line across the various properties involved or along Herndon Road in such a way as "to do the greatest good for the greatest number of people," Mr. Mount announced.

A show of hands seemed to indicate that no one at the Tuesday night meeting was strongly opposed to sewers. But many of the 30 residents were strongly and vocally opposed to lines that bisected, or even skirted, their properties. And although most of those present came to accept the fact that they will be assessed, they felt that the Township needed to explain the assessment basis to them more clearly. Mr. Marvel said he would confer with the Board of Improvement Assessors and find out how assessment figures will be reached. The question of installing lines from the Princeton Water Company to the Herndon area was also discussed, with Mr. Schofield expected to prepare cost estimates.

James J. Reed, 20 Murray Place, who this week was named coach of the United States Olympic Soccer team. A player and coach in the sport for the past 35 years (more than a quarter of a century at Princeton), the able, affable Lehigh alumnus will also be in charge of this country's soccer team in the Pan American games scheduled for Chicago in August.

Dr. Schwarzschild, Higgins Professor of Astronomy at Princeton, is director of the Flying Telescope Project, which, at a height of 82,000 feet, has obtained the sharpest photographs yet made of the sun.

ROUND UP

SPRING SHORTS: Houseparties come to the Princeton scene this weekend, with Prospect Street the principal setting for dancing and other contemporary forms of undergraduate acceptance of the month of May . . . in support of the "ounce of prevention" axiom, the Borough will staff the area with a force of 20 men Friday and Saturday nights, including uniformed patrolmen and plain clothes operatives among their number . . . Prospect from Washington to Olden will be closed to through traffic and cars parked on the north side, in violation of posted regulations, will be towed away. Backers of the Cultured Chicken, aiming for zoning approval of their venture in the old Titus Motors property on Witherspoon Street, are hopeful of forthcoming approval . . . a four-hour session with the Zoning Board last week produced testimony that may run to 160 pages when prepared by the court stenographer who was present . . . a final ruling is expected within the next ten days.

The New Jersey Legislature is preparing two bills of unusual public interest: one, likely to become law soon, will require every motorist to agree to take a drunkometer test if police feel there is reason to check his degree of intoxication. Refusal would mean automatic revocation of license.

Another bill may require dry cleaning establishments which use plastic bags when returning wearing apparel to label them with a warning that they be kept away from small children . . . youngsters who put them over their heads can be electrocuted when static electricity pins the plastic to their mouth and nose . . . the U. S. Public Health Service has recorded 19 such deaths nationally and one occurred in New York this week.

Princeton's Janice Harsanyi drew the top notices last week when the Philadelphia Orchestra played the Berlioz "Damnation of Faust" in Carnegie Hall . . . said the New York Times critic: "The best singing of the evening was done by Janice Harsanyi." She was acclaimed as singing "ecquiescently" in the role of soprano

SCHOOL CALENDARS DIFFER

Township Term Starts Late. Classes will begin on Monday, September 14, for the 1959-60 school year in the Township public schools. This is five days later than the opening date in the Borough and it means the first time in recent years that the two municipalities' opening dates have differed that widely. Dates for vacations will be the same in the Borough and Township, but Township schools will remain in session for a few days longer in June to meet the state-required number (180) of school days.

The Board of Education decided on the late opening in order to provide time for faculty workshops after Labor Day and to increase construction time on the new Johnson Park and Riverside schools before classes begin. A. Robert Trudel, chairman of the board's construction committee, reported that construction schedules have been revised because of the failure of a contractor to deliver the steel on time.

Dr. William Porell, superintendent, is drawing up alternate plans for use in the event the new schools are not ready for use on opening day. Although it now appears that the September 1 deadline for completion of the classroom areas will not be met, Dr. Porell said construction of the new schools is ahead of the work on Littlebrook School at this time in 1957, and he hopes to begin the year in the new facilities.

The board approved documents for advertising the sale of the $1,145,000 bond issue voted last spring. Bids will be opened at 8 P.M. on June 16 at Valley Road School. The bonds will be dated July 1.

Reappointments Approved. The reappointment of 51 teachers, as well as the school nurses and the psychologist, was approved by the board on recommendation of the instruction committee. For 13 of these, this was to be the tenure reappointment.

Also approved was the reappointment of two principals, Dr. John J. McKenna and Charles Lamontagne. Mr. Lamontagne now has tenure in the system.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Miss Katherine Lyons, who will retire June READY FOR MAY DAY! The children who attend Miss Fine's School plan to celebrate the day in high style. 30 after 37 years with the township schools. William Wilson, president of the board, appointed two special committees, one to carry on discussions with the trustees of Community Gardens about acquisition of part of that property for school purposes, and one to study personnel policies for non-teaching employees.

Members of the first committee are Richard Pearson, John Donald and Mr. Wilson. The second committee includes John Dobbin, Mrs. Phyllis Smider, Dr. Porell and Mr. Wilson.

Mrs. Patricia Jennings was appointed to replace Miss Gladys Kyle as fourth grade teacher at Littlebrook School for the rest of the term. Thirteen new teachers have been appointed to begin teaching next year. They include Mrs. Barbara Bush, 92-A Linden Lane; Mrs. Katherine Fitzpatrick, 220-C Marshall Street; Mrs. Janice Haggood, 28 Murray Place; Mrs. Marion Kimberly, 33 Southern Way; Miss Alicia Schmidt, 141 Harris Road; Mrs. Marion Smith, 29 Hamilton Avenue; Mrs. Daisy Wilkinson, 38 Wheathead Lane.

Also, Miss Anita Glaeser, Totowa Borough; Miss Barbara Hestert, Levittown, Pa.; Miss Rebecca Sachs, Hopewell; Arno Safran, Rochester, N.Y.; Miss Natalie Saunders, Florham Park; Miss Githen Stenberg of Princeton will return to the school system after a teaching assignment in Germany.

SCHOOL STUDY ORDERED

On Possible Consolidation. The Borough Board of Education voted Tuesday night to pay $1,900 for a study of the possibilities for closer cooperation between the Borough and Township school systems.

Superintendent B. Woodhull Davis said he had been assured the Township board would appropriate an equal sum at its next meeting to meet the full $3,800 cost of the survey, which will be conducted by the Development Council of Rutgers University. As announced in January, the study will consider the possibility of eventual consolidation of the two systems.

In other business, the board accepted with regret the resignations of Miss Peggy Taylor, a teacher at Nassau Street School, and Mrs. Margaret D. Allen, science teacher at Witherspoon School. Miss Taylor will leave the system at the close of the school year, while Mrs. Allen's resignation was effective March 31.

Four new teachers were appointed for next year. They are Mrs. Mildred Swartz, elementary physical education and science; Miss Marcia Ann Olney, ninth grade, Nassau Street; Mrs. Jean Kling, English, Princeton High School. None are from the Princeton area.

Mrs. John Fisher, chairman of the Nassau Street School PTA, requested the board to publish a revised edition of the parents' school handbook first issued in 1956. The board agreed to provide funds for 1,000 copies of the mimeographed publication, which will be prepared by the PTA.

Other board actions: The board received without comment a letter from Ellis G. Willard, chairman of the Joint Citizens' Advisory Committee on Recreation, clarifying the committee's recommendations relating to use of school buildings for unorganized play after school hours. Thursday, May 21, was set as the date for a meeting between teachers' liaison committee and the board.

Superintendent Davis reported on the possibility of the high school choir traveling to Russia this summer under the State Department's cultural exchange program. The only obstacle, he said, is money. Mr. Davis said "some influential people," among whom he mentioned Sen. Clifford Case what . . . Giving a highly appealing performance in the leading juvenile role of Tuesday's nationally televised "Ah, Wilderness" was Lee Kinsolving, former Princetonian whose father was for a number of years rector of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Ever hear of such places as Bedbug Hill, Double Trouble, Footloose, Hog Wallow, One's Hat or Worthless City? They're all in New Jersey (in the Piney section south toward the ocean), as David Dodge reports with considerable humor in "Madcap Tour of New Jersey" which appears in the current issue of Holiday.

Prospective New Jersey tourists may chain two guides to a warm-weather enjoyment by writing the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, State Promotion Section, Trenton 25. . . "Vacation Guide to Fun in New Jersey" lists the State's resort attractions, inland and at the shore; "New Jersey Events Schedule" includes the dates and facts on more than 1,000 activities of all kinds scheduled for the coming months. . . both are available without charge.

Twist of the Week: One of the Soviet Union's distinguished linguists, Professor Georgy Stepanov, a member of a delegation from the University of Leningrad currently completing an American tour, lectured here this week. A distinctive aspect of the Tuesday talk was that Dr. Stepanov, as at home in French and German as he is in his native tongue, lectured in Spanish to an appreciative American audience rounded up by the University's Department of Romance Languages. The topic: "Hispanic Studies in the Soviet Union."

Come what May?
—D. GRASS S. DEWEY

Not only April but all mankind in this area were soggy by the time she was ready to leave. The first three days of the week brought nearly two inches of rain by way of keeping the old shower adage up-to-date.

However, the Man promised, the flowers are ready, and there'll be a good deal of sunshine on hand to help dry them out. Fair and warm virtually all week-end, the forecasts indicate, with temperatures averaging four to seven degrees above normal.

STABBER CONVICTED

Attacked landlady, James Cole, 37, of 27½ Green Street, was sentenced to 90 days in the Mercer County Workhouse after conviction in Borough Court this week on charges of stabbing his landlady, Dorsey Hemmings, 62, of the same address. Police said Cole made the attack after Mr. Hemmings had ordered him to leave the house because of his excessive drinking. After the stabbing Mr. Hemmings received nine stitches in his right hip at Princeton Hospital.

In other court action, John C. Yeager, 26, of Trenton, was convicted of stealing $65 from the home of Mrs. W. D. Williams, 200 Suckton Street, where he was washing windows. Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. gave Yeager a three-months suspended sentence plus $10 court costs and released him in the custody of the Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson. Yeager was directed to seek psychiatric attention.

Fines were imposed on Lewis Mills, 58, 12 Green Street, $225 and two-year license revocation for drunken driving; J. D. Kuebler, 38, 261 Varsity Avenue, Penn Neck, $30 for lack of registration and expired inspection sticker; J. C. Daniels, 29, 16 Bank Street, —Continued on Page 9

"IOLANTHE" OPENS
Savoyards' Spring Production.
"Eve singing, ever dancing," a sprightly production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe," opened last weekend in McCarter Theatre. Those who missed it may see it this Saturday at 2:30 or at 8:30.

Monroe Wade, the director, has kept a lively pace throughout the two acts and has poked a little bit of fun at a play that has its own good measure of it already. For example, he has set his "dainty lit-lit fairies" on a gal-jumping prance across the McCarter stage, emphasizing the fact that these are good, husky, hearty young girls, very much like the heroine, "Phyllis," herself.

Mr. Wade might have used this tongue-in-cheek approach even more than he did; Savoyards would protest mightily, of course, but others might find "Iolanthe" somewhat fresher for it.

The current G. and S. offering has engaging music and some delightfully wry comments on British justice and the House of Lords in particular, but the fact remains it is uproarious entertainment for Gilbert and Sullivan fans only. It is, however, a splendid theater piece for a family evening as there were a number of children at both of last week's performances.

Janet Thorsen is a lovely litl blonde Iolanthe with long, silky hair and a sweet voice. Ruth Bent, whose voice is considerably firmer, is a fine Phyllis, pink-cheeked and wholesome as an Arcadian shepherdess. Sheldon Simon sings a sturdy Strephon, the "fleece" to Phyllis' "flower."

Lee Bristol's Lord Chancellor draws the most chuckles, as he abides. Mr. Bristol and the small orchestra were not always on the same beat, but things may have improved since opening night. Mr. Bristol has a lovely, sidery skip that sets his curled wig to bouncing — decorously, of course.

The happiest thing about the production is the zest and liveliness of the cast. The Savoyards and their singing recruits have a perfectly wonderful time with "Iolanthe" and they are able to project their enthusiasm successfully to the audience.

Melvin Olson's musical direction is accurate and the choreography is clean-cut. Paul Glickler has designed two fine sets (the second act's Westminster, in particular) and Robert G. Blalock as producer has tied the whole in to a neat package.

CAST OF 150

In Ballet Society Show. A cast of 150 dancers will take part in the Spring production of the Princeton Ballet Society. Two ballets, "Hansel and Gretel" and "Graduation Ball," will be included in the production, which will be presented Thursday afternoon, May 7, at 3:30 as part of the Borough PTA's Children's Entertainment Series and again Friday evening, May 8, at 8:30 for adults. Both presentations will be at McCarter Theatre.

This will be the Ballet Society's fifth presentation since 1934. Like the previous productions, this year's show is the work of Mrs. Audree Estey, director and choreographer for the society. "Hansel and Gretel" has been set to dance and pantomime to the music from Engelbert Humperdinck's opera, selected and adapted by Mrs. Estey and Mrs. Nora Greenblatt, the Society's music director. They also adapted "Graduation Ball," from the original story and choreography by David Liehine and the music by Johann Strauss.

Jeanne Knorr and Dabhy Bishop will play Hansel and Gretel, with other featured roles played by Joyce Sichel, Evon Kochey and George Alexander. Miss Stachel, a teacher for the Ballet Society, had her training in England, where she studied and received her teacher's certificate at — Continued on Page 6 the Royal Academy. Even Kochev was formerly a student of the Littlefield sisters in Philadelphia. George Alexander is well-known to Princeton audiences, having appeared in four previous Ballet Society shows as well as in productions of the Princeton Community Players.

Starting as prima ballerina in "Graduation Ball" will be Eleanor Cooke, the drummer boy who will be danced by a professional dancer, Nino Bonome, a teacher at the Metropolitan Opera School of Ballet. Other solo parts and pas de deux will be danced by Lucy Ann Jones, Ruby Oils, Sue Moser, Carol Estey, Sol Lender, Clint Jakeman and Lee Carter.

Also portraying graduates will be Penny Bush, Linda Seastara, Miss Tomlinson and Lucille Tolo. In the parts of guests, and making their debuts with the Ballet Society, will be Michael A. Kromble of Princeton; Robert Buhard, Lee Carter, Clint Jakeman, Ted Kurtz, George Landman, MacMurray and Bill Shepherd of Princeton University, and Dwight Gatehall, David Saby and Dwight Wilkinson of Princeton High School.

Decor for both ballets has been designed by Jacques Kufnerman, internationally-known artist. Costumes have been created by Mrs. George Barrie, who has designed costumes for the society and for several Princeton ice carnivals.

SAVE THAT CHILD

At Players' May Production. The bright pink posters sprouting around town these days serve warning that the May production of the Princeton Community Players will be a spine-tingling, hair-raising, real old-fashioned melodrama. It is scheduled for May 15, 16, 22 and 23 at 8:30 p.m. at the Playmill, 262 Alexander Street.

COMEDY STAR: Jack Pyle will play the leading role in "The Tunnel of Love" at Bucks County Playhouse.

The posters, printed in type suitable for saying "Want to see Jesse James," or some equally frightening message, actually proclaiming the title of the production is "The Child Stealer." Accompanying the title is a sketch of the most pathetic small boy ever seen in the environs of Princeton, face drawn in sorrow and hand outstretched pitiously.

As if this weren't enough, there is a subtitle, "Love Among the Lowly," decorated with a chubby Cupid in the act of polling his bow. Author of this heart-rending drama is listed as W. E. Suter.

Director of the show will be "the famed entrepreneur," Mrs. Marguerite McAneny, Seta, designed by Peter G. Cook, will show such scenes as "a wretched garet, Lord Chesterton's mansion and the thieves' cellar."

The plot, described in a general way, concerns "the search for Evidence, a poor excuse for crime; Taking advantage of an Uncle's weakness; A Marriage of Infamy; the Murder Trap, Repentance and Devotion, etc., etc."

Playing the part of Jane Rutherford, "The Child Stealer," will be Emily Stuart, with Irving Van Zandt as Lord Chesterton, "a gambler;" Rita Bonnard as Lady Marina Chesterton, "a treasure of beauty and innocence;" and Foster Andrews as Daniel Rutherford, "returned from the deep."

Peter Cook, Jr., will portray Lt. Sydney Weston, "what soul more noble!" with James Hopkins as a perceiving policeman, Jean Calloway as a notorious thief, and Julian Wick, Louis Kuban and William Behrle as pickpockets. Others in the cast include Jane Andrews as an unyielding landlady, Diana Terry as a temptress, Edward Appar as a tailor and John Drury as a domestic. Tickets at $2 each (including free beer!) may be ordered by mail from Mr. Drury, 41 Harrison Street, until May 4. Thereafter they will be on sale at the University Store.

"ONLINE" TO OPEN

Will Run April 30-May 9. Jean Giraudoux's "Online," the romantic fantasy which is being staged by Theatre Intime as its Spring production, will open this Thursday evening at Murray Theatre. The play will be presented every evening through Saturday, May 9, except Sunday.

Leading roles will be played by Kathy Kelly and Alexander S. Kennedy. Miss Kelly, who comes from Trenton, has appeared frequently with the Community Players and had a leading role in "The Revenger's Tragedy." Mr. Kennedy, a freshman at Princeton University, appeared previously on Broadway in part of Gertrude Lawrence's son in the show, "The King and I."

Others in the cast are Robert Wren, Reed Armstrong, Anne Waldron, Susan Lerner, Cosy Spitzer, Mike Ward, Linda Marquette, Diane Terry and Bob Craft. G. Grenville Cuyler, Princeton '60, is director and William Galloway, also '60, is producer. Paul Glickler, '62, is in charge of sets, with Claude Engel '60, directing the lighting and Margot Williamson in charge of costumes.

COMEDIES SLATED

By Bucks County Playhouse. The opening on Saturday, May 2, of "The Tunnel of Love" at Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope, Pa., will mark the start of a season of comedies. "The Tunnel of Love" will run until May 16. Stars will be Jack Pyle, Rita Gam, Scott McKay and Sono Osato.

Other plays on the summer schedule of the Bucks County Playhouse, with opening dates, are: May 18, "Summer of the 17th Doll," co-starring James Whitmore and Art Lund; June 1, "Tiger at the Gates," with Hurd Hatfield heading the cast and June 15, "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?," starring Gene Rayburn and Russell Nype. Evening performances will be at 8:30 Monday through Saturday, with matinees at 2 Wednesday and Saturday.

SPRING SHOW SET

By Lawrenceville School. Lawrenceville School will stage its 11th annual Spring Show this Thursday and Friday evenings at McCarter Theatre. IT'S NEW To Us

CURTAIN GOING UP

New Enterprise, Nassau Interiors, known for slipcover, pillow and chair these many years, now has a drapery establishment within its folds. The C. & M. drapery people in Trenton have joined the Nassau Street organization, bringing with them an impressive caravan of machines that do everything but weave.

For example, there is a special machine which does blind stitching, so that your drapes have no visible hem or seam stitches. (Looks like hand-work; maybe you can palm it off as your own.) The experienced workmen can also handle the complexities involved in any kind of valance, bedspread or drapery, no matter how Edwardian, Victorian or Plantagenet your tastes.

The C. & M. house brings to Nassau Interiors about 30 years of drapery-making experience, and that's a lot of yardage.

Speaking of yardage, the shop at 162 Nassau now has some awesome solid color drapery fabrics which have been vat-dyed in molten metal, of all things. Please do not ask us for a description of the process. Just accept the word of the dye-man that this fabric will retain its color for three years or you got a complete replacement.

Several million yards were tested for five years and nobody complained, so you can see how safe you'll be if you swath a south window-wall with some of this molten metal stuff. Colors, as we said before, are solid. Textures are varied, with gold-

Singing Mules

The lovely wild song of the goldfinch can fill your house if you buy a couple of goldfinch mules, now available at The Pet Shop on Henderson Avenue.

A goldfinch mule is a cross—sterile—between a goldfinch and a canary, combining the singing qualities of both in a very pleasing duet. The song is much wilder in timbre than the canary's and thoroughly agreeable to have around the house.

The goldfinch mule also does tricks, in between songs, and you can teach him, if you have patience and time. Rig up a cage with an enclosed track leading to the birdseed, and teach your mule to get his food by walking along the track and pulling on a string that opens a trap door that leads to the food. Quite a parlor entertainer.

shot fabrics, smooth surfaces, slubs, tubs and sheens. You can use these for slipcovers, too, of course.

Nassau Interiors has been going afield these days, doing drapery installations for officers' clubs at Fort Dix and Camp Kilmer and general work for the Title Council of America. Do not be intimidated by this impressive roster. The shop will install curtains for your $12 living-room on Friday if you decide on Monday what fabric you want.

Ants, Where? It's a little red-wood "city" rather like a bird-feeder but flatter and considerably more lively. It holds ants, 200 of them, and you buy it at the Pet Shop, off Mountain Avenue on Henderson.

You've seen ant colonies before, of course, but not one so deluxe as this. It's Acapulco and Mallores and Monte Carlo all in one. Not so much Monte Carlo, actually, because there's not much of a gamble connected with it. You just buy the ant colony, drop a lump of sugar in now and again, water it once in a while (no drowning, please) and there you are.

Nothing a dog can chase or a cat devour. Nothing to wilt while you go on vacation. Just the busiest, liveliest crew you ever saw in your life.

At The Pet Shop, cardboard covers are kept over the glass sides of the box to encourage drones, or whatever ants call them, to dig tunnels next to the glass instead of inside the dirt where you can't see what's going on. Seems to work.

With each colony you get the 200 ants and two queens. At the moment, it seems to be spring and white egg clusters are clearly visible.

This means you feed your ants cooked meat because the baby ants will need protein. Depending on your temperament, you will either be relaxed by ant-watching or driven out of your mind. In any case, if you think YOU'RE in a rat-race, just remove that cardboard cover and take a look. Bird-lovers may now buy copper and brass cages that are really most decorative. One is shaped rather like an old-fashioned gondola balloon, the other is like a pagoda. Both have brass perches and shining copper bottoms.

At the present writing, the Pet Shop has 50 varieties of tropical fish. Peering into a tank, we saw one of those delightful pieces of flummery the Pet Shop has to dress up a fish tank. "What a wonderful plastic crocodile!" we exclaimed. "He isn't a crocodile, he's an alligator," said Mr. Arnot, the Pet Shop owner, "and besides, he isn't plastic, he's real."

About those ants, again: when you remove the cork to feed them, put it right back on in a hurry. The consequences of not doing so are more than you would care to face.

Shorts for the Sand. Mary Gill's dress shop has a group of summer garments which you can move around like chessmen: shorts, full skirts, slim skirts, blouses, all in various florals and solids that mate and match in most useful manner.

Koret has a heavy cotton sleeveless blouse, cream in color, with great blue and green flowers, each one outlined in black. Collar is on the wing. In sand or skipper blue, you may have Jessica shorts, slim skirt or gored skirt with big pockets and a row of little wooden buttons down the front. There's also a circular skirt to match the floral blouse.

Shrinkskin has been used for a pale, cotton-qualit' skirt with brown print belt that matches the sleeveless shirt. Skirt has peg pockets.

In sweeter dresses, Mary Gill recommends an informal Annel shawlkin in pale, muted and with short bulky to match. For dressed up occasions, there is a pale blue sleeveless dress with floral band across the neckline and down the front of the hollow blue sweetheart neckline, a girlish look, a blue and white gingham dress, round collar, with gingham applique on the bodice. A light brown and cream cord dress has a long-sleeved cardigan.

Printed linen makes a sheath with a pale blue Empire band at the high waist. It repeats around the top edge of the cap sleeve. The same dress comes in black with satin instead of pale blue linen print.

A sleeveless white linen has a wide purple straw belt and purple straw frogs. It has the mandarin neckline of a full duster, brightly printed with purple and blue blossoms from a Persian garden. (Persian, in spite of that mandarin collar.)

For julep drinking, Mary Gill has a bouffant white voile with big coin dots. And from the design boards of Carolyn C. Dress, white accordion pleats caught at waist, the top of a canisole bodice and the neckline with stretch bands of pale grey eyelid embroidery. The same bands go over the shoulder and a pale, was rose sighs at the waistline.

A straight dress in deep coffee (pale blue or champagne) has a bands of lace between its horizontal tucks. A chiffon cummerbund goes around a high waist and meets in a wide buckle in the back. Sleeves are short and puffed, neckline is a wide boat.

White cotton embroidery is lace against the pale apricot of a straight cocktail dress. A hoop of soft apricot chiffon goes over one shoulder, slides through a bodice slit and goes back up again to form the second shoulder strap. It appears in the back of the dress as a floating drape.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Green Manolin (April 30-May 2) is a souped-up and uneven adaptation of the 1904 novel by William Henry Hudson, and the film is chiefly notable for its Cinemascope, Metrocolor views of little-photographed Venezuela, and a mildly effective acting job by Audrey Hepburn. Miss Hepburn portrays Rima, a jungle "bird girl" who, unfortunately, is looked upon as an evil goddess by the neighborhood chieftain. Her co-star is Anthony Perkins, who, after scratching his head and shuffling his feet in virtually every other conceivable setting, here gets a chance to prove his versatility by scratching his head and shuffling his feet in the Venezuelan jungle.

Perkins has made his boyish way into the jungle in search of gold with which to avenge a personal grievance which brought his father in his reward. After a war dance (choreographed by Katherine Dunham), a battle with a tiger, a medium of rapishooting and an encounter with some unpleasant natives, the film gets down to business and Bird Girl Hepburn and Bird Brain Perkins find love.

The rest of the plot is dominated by Director Mel Ferrer's somewhat heavy-handed attempts to create an aura of sentimental enchantment around the pair, climaxing in an ending which is laden with symbolic overtones. Others in the cast are Lee J. Cobb, George Haykawa and Henry Silva, plus the natives and the tiger. Dorothy Kingsley composed the screenplay.

Al Capone (May 3-5) is evidence that the movie men have come full circle in their continuing battle to wrest viewers from the clutches of the electronic eye in the living room. The first stage in the skirmish came when Hollywood decided the public would soon tire of a constant diet of mysteries and Westerns. To lure the customers back to the theater, they produced a spate of opulent spectacles and the cry has out that movies are longer than ever.

This technique has apparently met with a richly deserved lack of success and the public would soon tire of a constant diet of mysteries and Westerns. To lure the customers back to the theater, they produced a spate of opulent spectacles and the cry has out that movies are longer than ever.

"Al Capone" in a more favorable light than might be otherwise possible. As cops-and-robbers epics go, it is a convincing effort.

It has one obvious advantage over most of this year's TV thrillers in that the viewer isn't distracted by background music which is more interesting than the action on the screen. Furthermore, the acting by Rod Steiger, Fay Spain and James Gregory is probing and suspenseful.

The film is a pseudo-documentary presentation of the life and times of America's best-known evildoer, with glimpses of the forces that shaped his unlawful ends. Marvin Wald and Henry Greenberg, who wrote the screenplay, dug into the more widely known of Capone's exploits, and the drama ranges from his humble beginnings as a hunchbacked Johnny Torrio to his eventual imprisonment on charges totally un-related to his major crimes. Younger moviegoers may find the unflinching line of killings unbelievable and perhaps a trifle harrowing ("Some Like It Hot," the new Marilyn Monroe vehicle, uses the St. Valentine's Day massacre as a comic scene) but that's the way it happened and "Al Capone" is an intelligent case study for viewers interested in clinical analysis of a national sickness that shouldn't be soon forgotten.

THE GARDEN

Forbidden Fruit (April 30-May 2), originally titled "Lettres a Mon Juge," is an excellent French film which gives the comedian Fernandel an opportunity to try his hand in a straight dramatic part. His consummate timing and skill serve him well in the role of a provincial doctor who takes a lower-class mistress (Francoise Arnould) while maintaining his normal family life in conventional propriety. Fernandel's interpretation of the hopes and fears of his character, and the unhappy end toward which his illicit affair is pointing, brings the film to life with perception and subtlety.

Rebel Without a Cause (May 4) was a picture that inspired the most fanatical devotion from the adolescent followers of James Dean. A drama of juvenile maladjustment, "Rebel Without a Cause" takes Method acting to its illogical conclusion, but remains convincing and credible because of the performances of the stars, including Dean, Natalie Wood, Sal Mineo and Jim Backus. The film is in CinemaScope and color.

Gigi (May 5-9), for the information of readers just returning from Italy to Hollywood, is an Academy Awards last month and is considered one of the more elegant of the musicals of 1958. While we decline to list it as the "My Fair Lady" of the screen, the film is genial, warm-hearted and useful.

In color, "Gigi" stars Leslie Caron, Maurice Chevalier, Louis Jourdan, Hermione Gingold, Eva Gabor, Jacques Bergerac and Isabel Jeans, with music by Lerner and Lowe. One might wish for a more passion-rousing "Gigi" than Leslie Caron provides in the final scenes, but it would be out of place to carp at this late juncture. If you missed the picture the first time around, the Garden deserves praise for giving you a second chance. If you've already seen it, you'll probably want to go again.

DR. BODO TO BE HONORED

By Community Relations Group. A farewell dinner will be given Dr. John R. Bodo next Thursday by the Princeton Community Relations Group in the social room of the First Presbyterian Church. Following the dinner, which begins at 6:45, the group will hold its annual meeting.

One of the founders of the organization which was created to further integrated housing in Princeton, Dr. Bodo will leave his post as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in June to become professor of practical theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary. During the past year, the Community Relations Group has been concerned with urban renewal and public housing. Its members sponsored Princeton Housing Associations, the builders responsible for the integrated communities of Glen Acres and Maple Crest in Princeton and West Windsor Townships.

The Rev. Straughan L. Gettler, chairman of the Community Relations Group, will preside at the meeting. The two speakers will be Dan D. Coyle, Borough Council president and chairman of the Council's Committee on the Future of Princeton, and John S. Mount, member of the Township Committee and its sub-committee investigating low-cost and multiple housing.

Receptions for the dinner may be made through Mrs. George M. Grace, Pretty Brook Road. Those interested in attending should notify her before Saturday.

A more even flow of current is being sought from Public Service, which the Association quotes as calling Kendall Park "a new area overlanded with power demands." Lights in the development often dim and electricity for appliances drops frequently, the Association reports. Construction of a power house on Beckman Road is listed as a possible solution.

With a third of the homes in Kendall Park covered, 478 signatures have been obtained to a petition seeking to improve safety conditions on Route 27. Residents are asking the State Highway Department to restrict speed in their area to 35 miles an hour and to create a "no-passing" zone.

$7 MILLION DONATED

To University Fund. The "$33 Million for Princeton University" campaign has received a total of $7,126,000 in donations to date. It was announced last week by James F. Oates, Jr., campaign chairman, Mr. Oates, chief executive of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, spoke at a luncheon meeting of Princeton alumni held at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

The luncheon was part a three-day "Princeton in Michigan" conference. The conference was the 14th in an annual series sponsored by the university in different sections of the country. Purpose of the conferences is to acquaint alumni and the public with university activities.

Of the total donated to the fund so far, Mr. Oates said, $1,208,400 was contributed by Princeton's 48 trustees. Also included were gifts of $750,000 from the Whitehall Foundation of New York, towards a new Biology Wing on Guyot Hall, and $254,625 from George H. and Harriet Williams of Sarasota, Fla., for establishment of a new scholarship.

The $33 million is being sought for one general purpose — the pursuit of excellence in education. Specific objectives are: $30 million for new buildings and plant improvements; $20 million for endowment to support faculty salaries, underwrite faculty research programs and to increase scholarship and other aid to students, and $3 million in working capital to execute these improvements as soon as possible, even while personnel pledges and commitments are still being paid.

of books. Mrs. Lawrence Holland is library chairman.

A survey of the school's book distribution from September to January of this school year shows that about 100 books a day are circulated among a school reading population of 400 children, grades two through five. An additional 40 picture books circulates through the kindergartens.

The figures represent about 21 books read per child for a period of five months. This is supplementary reading only and does not include class-room assignments.

The children may choose from 1,400 volumes including the entire American Library Association reading list for children in the 7-12 age bracket. Biographies seem to be the most popular with children and Little Brock moccasins say that non-fiction circulates almost as much as fiction.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Miss Mary E. Meeker, Vassar '38 and now assistant to the Alumnae Secretary at Vassar. More than 80 girls from 35 schools in the Central New Jersey area, including Princeton High School and Miss Fine's School, will attend.

Science Teacher Honored

Miss Dorothy Compton, a science teacher at the Nassau Street School, was honored at dinner last week at the Nassau Inn. Mrs. Helen Breckley, a former principal of the school, paid tribute to Miss Compton, as did Howard Woodward, Witherspoon School principal.

Chester R. Stroup, Nassau Street School principal, was master of ceremonies. In his speech, he stressed Miss Compton's dedication to Princeton children and her supervision of the elementary science program for the past three years.

Miss Compton will retire this June after 34 years with Borough elementary schools. At the end of the evening, she was presented with a gift.

BIDS TO BE RECEIVED

For Route 1 Construction. Bids for the installation of traffic signals and highway lights along U.S. 1 will be received May 13 by the New Jersey State Highway Department. The area affected lies between the Brunswick Avenue traffic circle, Trenton, and the Route Nine circle in Woodbridge.

Department plans call for 30 traffic signal installations at 28 jug-handle turn areas. There will be fluorescent highway lighting at those intersections and incandescent lights at other locations. The contract calls for work to be completed by October 1.

Construction will be undertaken in Lawrence, West Windsor, Plainsboro, South and North Brunswick, Edison and Woodbridge Townships. When completed, the entire highway section will be under one coordinated network of traffic signals geared to permit a car to travel at a constant 50 mile per hour speed through the entire 36-mile stretch without hitting a signal red light.

The completed highway will have four 13½-foot lanes with hard-shoulder shoulders ten feet wide. Concrete center barriers will replace the center safety island for most of the route's mileage. These barrier curbs have reportedly reduced head-on collisions by almost 100 percent.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB TO MEET David Lillenthal of 88 Better Road will be the guest speaker at the Princeton Democratic Club's next meeting, which will take place Wednesday, May 13, at 8:30 in the Chestnut Street Firehouse.

Mrs. James Shriver, 635 Snowden Lane, was driving north on Snowden Saturday at 4:19 a.m. when she swerved to the west side of the road, struck a tree, bounced back and hit another tree, coming to rest on a lawn. LIQUOR LICENSE ISSUE

In Montgomery Township. A proposed ordinance that would have granted an unlimited liquor license to Mirai's Restaurant on Route 206 was withdrawn by the Montgomery Township Committee after it ran into strong opposition at its April meeting. In place of the ordinance, the committee members adopted a resolution stating that they would consider putting the license question on the ballot in November.

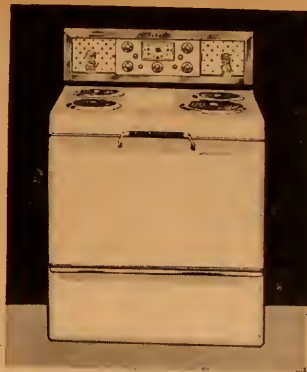

A group of 18 residents, some of whom live on Route 206 and other from County Route 518, appeared to protest passage of the ordinance, which had been introduced in March. They stated that granting the license would create a traffic hazard and be a bad influence on children in the community. Only three persons appeared in favor of the ordinance, in addition to the applicants.

Mimi's Restaurant currently has a limited liquor license, granted in 1957, which permits it to serve liquor only with meals.

HOME AND MOTHER WIN SUPPORT: Rarely have Princetonians been as unanimous in their responses to Town Topics' Question of the Week as they were this week in disagreeing with a university president's remark that school is more important than home or church in forming character. Mrs. John Collyer (left) and Mrs. Leonard Johnson put the home at the top of the list. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Do you agree with a university president's recent statement that school has more influence on children than the home or church?

Where asked: Around town.

Michael Carnevale, 246 Hawthorne Street, Borough policeman: I definitely think the home and church play a more important role. The first stages of the child's development are very important, and these stages occur when the child has no contact with school. The combination of church and home, before school age, is of the greatest importance.

Mrs. Thomas H. Moras, 519 Jefferson Road, housewife: No, I don't agree. The school only has the children part of their lives, but the home and church have them most of their lives. The home tends to mould to child during his all-important formative years, and I would judge that this is the most important and basic influence.

Mrs. Leonard Johnson, 41 Overbrook Drive, housewife: I think home environment plays a more important part than the other two. A child's basic principles are started in the home; the early years are the important ones.

Meyer Goldstein, 124 Jefferson Road, restaurant owner: I definitely feel that the basic trainings and teachings the child receives in the home almost from its infancy should be the guiding influence and light for all his life. I deplore the fact that parents of today do not give as generously of their time as is necessary for their children's proper development.

Mrs. George W. Good Jr., 50 Littlebrook Road, housewife: I am inclined to believe home environment, church affiliation and school, in that order, make for good character.

Mrs. Adeline Provezzano, 42 Carnahan Place, salesgirl: No, I disagree. You begin to mould children when they're born. The five years of pre-school training are really basic influences. When you plant a tree you begin to care for it immediately. If the tree begins to grow crooked you can straighten it out immediately. But if you wait five years you may be unable to cause the tree to grow straight and tall.

Safe At Home

Whether or not it was in the hopes of starting an argument, the president of the University of Rhode Island said last week that "the school has a greater influence on molding the child than the home or the church."

Princetonians have shown in many ways that they have great respect for the schools in their community, but they disagree wholeheartedly with this premise. In fact, one woman questioned by Town Topics' inquiring reporter was so much in favor of the home as opposed to the school that she was afraid her answer had left the church a poor third. Coming to Town Topics to ask exactly how she had phrased her reply, she remarked, "After all, I do support our church thoroughly and I didn't want to sound like an atheist."

The Rev. Henry C. Beck, 28 Titus Avenue, Lawrenceville, editor of national church publication: No, I don't agree. The child certainly spends a lot more time in the home than in school. In a well-ordered home he's instructed properly in church attendance and in manners. His education therefore should begin — and does begin in the well-ordered home — long before he starts school. Many schools fail to give the proper instruction in ethics and morals to youngsters. Good education becomes, in many areas, a question of how much money the child's parents can afford to pay. Too many schools kick the proper religious instruction right into the wastebasket.

Mrs. John Collyer, 148 Pon Road, housewife: At first I was going to say that school is the most important, but now I think that the way people act comes from the home. Home is the biggest influence in the early years, which are the most important.

MONTOYA SHOW SOLD OUT

Performance This Friday. All available tickets for Carlos Montoya's flamenco guitar recital this Friday evening have been sold. It was announced this week by Dana Productions, sponsoring organization. The show will be held at 8:30 in Alexander Hall. Doors will open at 7:30. All ticket holders were reminded that the seats are not reserved.

CARILLON RECITAL SET

For This Sunday. A special concert on the Class of 1892 Carillon in the tower of Princeton Graduate College will be given Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Playing the carillon will be Staf Nees, bellmaster of the town of Mechlin in Belgium and internationally known musician.

Mr. Nees, who has studied carillon playing since boyhood, is now director of the Mechlin Carillon School. Together with Jef Donjon, first director of the school, he has taught many students who are now bellmasters throughout the world. Among them are the bellmasters of Princeton, New York, Chicago and Michigan.

The carillon is described by bellmasters as more than just a chime on which simple melodies can be played. It is "an instrument in its own right, capable of expressing music in full harmony and in all shades of touch."

Those attending the concert are urged to stay at least 200 to 300 yards away from the tower, in order to appreciate the music fully. Only at this distance, it is explained, do all the tones blend in proper harmony.

ALUMNI FEATURED

In Midnight Concerts. Brooks Jones, who was graduated from Princeton University in 1952, will be one of the featured performers in "3 Folk Sing," the folk song concert to be staged at midnight this Friday and Saturday in Murray Theatre. Mr. Jones, who was president of the Princeton Triangle Club when an undergraduate, is also manager of the show, which is being staged here

Works by four composers will be performed by both Princeton and New York musicians. The program will be opened by Fredric Rzewski, playing his own "Piano Piece," "Fantasy Variations" by Alden Adair will then be performed by Anahid Aghajanian, and the first half of the program will conclude with "Two Arioso" by Robert Chen. The Arioso will be sung by Terrence Bailey, a graduate student in Musicology.

The second half of the program will be devoted to a "String Quartet" by John Eaton, performed by Mari Marino and Avron Malotzky, violin; Ilana Debrunner, viola; and Robert Allen, cello. BLUE ANGELS, BACK TO BACK: A U.S. Navy demonstration team, flying supersonic jets back to back, will be a feature of the Delaware Valley Air Show to be staged at Mercer Airport in Trenton Saturday. Crowd of 50,000 expected to attend the all-day program.

AIR SHOW SCHEDULED

At Centoy Airport, The Trenton Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an air show at Mercer County Airport on Saturday, May 2. The program, scheduled to begin at 10 a.m., will include safety demonstrations, precision flying, parachute jumps, simulated bomb drops and ground exhibits of large military planes.

Feature of the show will be a half-hour performance by the Navy's precision jet team, "the Blue Angels." The team's repertoire includes change-over rolls, vertical climbs, low passes and formation landing. They will conclude their segment of the show by tracing a huge fleur-de-lis in the sky with colored smoke released from the planes.

Other jets, from nearby McGuire Air Force Base, will fly over the airport. Helicopter rides will be available to the public, and there will be an exhibition of traditional stunt flying.

On the night before the show, the Junior Chamber will sponsor a discussion at the airport on the potentials of aircraft in business at 7:30 p.m. Industrial executives from New Jersey and Pennsylvania have been invited to the discussion.

REPORT ON RECREATION

Joint Planning Urged. Although proposals for a political merger of the Borough and Township have thus far failed, the spirit of cooperation is very much alive, as is shown in the Report of the Joint Citizens' Advisory Committee on Recreation. Considered "most important" by the committee of its recommendations was a proposal for a "Joint Borough-Township Recreation Commission" to be responsible for the recreation program in Princeton.

The commission would have the power to "acquire lands, build facilities, hire professional personnel, and have control of all grounds and facilities," according to the report presented to the governing bodies of the two municipalities by the 14-member committee. New Jersey law stipulates that a commission for two or more municipalities must be initiated by a petition signed by 15 per cent of the voters and passed in a referendum, which must include the annual levy of the commission.

Unpaid members of the commission and its professional staff would be responsible for implementing the other 10 major recommendations of the citizens' committee. First step in establishing the organization would be to stop the planned Township development of the Community Gardens property and then to proceed with the work necessary under the law to institute the plan.

Township plans for the 49-acre Community Gardens would have to be scrapped because the primary recommendation of the committee, besides setting up the commission, covers a community "playfield" of at least 25 acres on the south side of Route 206. In addition, the committee believes "responsible authorities should at once take steps to acquire 30 acres of adjacent land north of Community Gardens across Highway 206 to provide for future needs."

The playfield and the other proposals of the report were recommended on the basis of standards set by the National Recreation Association and a study of recreation facilities and programs in 30 other New Jersey towns. Studies of the land, both developed and undeveloped, available to the Borough and Township and of opinion of 27 service agencies in Princeton were also considered.

"In judging Princeton's needs, one must think of Princeton as one community, not as Borough and Township," the committee concluded. It noted that the Borough, while it is well supplied with playgrounds, has no park-like recreation areas in its boundaries (the undeveloped Herron-town-River Road tract, borough-owned, lies in the Township).

Township Needs Playgrounds. The Township, on the other hand, has potential "playfield" areas but few developed playgrounds. With the population boom forecast for the Township (almost a 100 per cent increase in the next 15 years), even its playfield areas won't be sufficient in the future.

would remedy many of the shortcomings of both the Township and Borough. It would include an 8000 square foot swimming pool (that could be 50x18 yards), wading pool, ballhouse, at least one senior baseball diamond and two softball fields, 12 tennis courts, two basketball courts, shuffleboard, picnic area and complete landscaping as a park.

Another major recommendation of the committee would open Princeton public schools to community activities after school hours, with coordination provided by the Recreation Commission. This stand was supported by the Township Board of Education's special committee which reported that "the schools, as tax-supported buildings, should be available to (and only to) any publicly sponsored recreation program."

Specific suggestions to expand the recreation facilities in Princeton include: turning the River Road tract on the Millstone River into a park, replacing the High School tennis courts, more playground facilities at Township schools, a wading pool at Marquand Park, an artificial ice skating rink at Community Gardens and eight more tennis courts.

The committee making the report was headed by Ellis C. Willard, chairman, who was assisted by G. A. Speedy, vice-chairman, and Mrs. John V. A. Fine, secretary. Other members were: Lawrence P. Ferraro, Mrs. Simon Hunter, George Loos, John S. Mack, Mrs. Peter G. McCro-

A $273,000 "Playfield"

The proposed "playfield" on the Community Gardens property on Route 206 is estimated to cost just under $273,000 by the Joint Citizens' Advisory Committee on Recreation. The "tentative" figure does not include purchase of an additional 30 acres north of Community Gardens.

A breakdown of the cost estimate looks like this: $44,000 for grading; $100,000 for the big swimming pool, wading pool, and ballhouse; $22,000 for tennis courts with fencing; $4000 for two basketball courts; $2000 for three basketball backstops; $200 for a shuffleboard court; and $450 for three fireplaces.

In addition, the committee has estimated that 5000 feet of fencing (assuming a school to be built on the Witherspoon Street side, the fence would be nearer 4000 feet) at $3 a foot for a total of $15,000. Included in the final figure is $15,000 for landscaping, which necessarily overlaps with the amount suggested for grading the tract, and another $50,000 to cover contingencies.

Report from THE MAYOR

International Harmony. The Mayor can recall no more persuasive request for community support of a worthwhile project than that received recently from Princeton High School student Arnold Urken on behalf of the high school choir and a possible European tour this summer as part of the State Department's Cultural Exchange Program.

The brilliant 40-voice choir, led by Tom Hilbish, has already been certified by ANTA for its artistic excellence, and it is reported that only a question of available funds stands in the way of the choir's making this important trip. Urken and his two-age colleagues have decided to see if they can stir up enough interest to make the dream come true. Already they have persuaded the Governor to assist in their cause.

To Win Friends. There should be no doubt that these young people would be tremendous ambassadors of good will for America. On the concert platform they would, as young Urken says, "demonstrate that teen-agers are not just rock and roll."

And between concert dates, can anyone question the positive effect of these terrific young Americans on people everywhere? For the students it would, of course, be an unforgettable experience. For Princeton and for the United States the dividends from such a trip would be the incalculable ones provided by 40 earnest and enthusiastic ambassadors of good will. For the peoples they would visit — hopefully including the Soviet Union — there would be the refreshing chance to measure the real American spirit.

If It's Money. If early reports are verified by the State Department — that only money is the stumbling block for the trip — then this town may have a chance to demonstrate its willingness to supplement available public funds through voluntary efforts. The Mayor would like to help in this, sharing the conviction of many Princetonians that our survival depends for more on the good will of people than it does on the vastly more expensive nuclear hardware.

On the Calendar. Among the enjoyable highlights of the Mayor's week: the chance to meet and welcome a long list of distinguished visitors including Fidel Castro, Dean Acheson and Senator Joseph S. Clark, Jr.; the opportunity to speak before two match classes at the Princeton High School on Friday; and a pleasant evening as guest of the One Hundred Year Association of New Jersey and its Princeton charter member, the Princeton Bank and Trust Company.

The Association admits as members only those corporations that have continuously served for a century or more. The Borough of Princeton qualifies, of course. Other guests represented Princeton's educational and business centerpieces. (Editor's note: See Business in Princeton, page 22.)

Open House. The regular weekly "Tell It to the Mayor!" session will be held on Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. Next week's session will also be held on Thursday, May 7, and no appointment is required.

No Freeway for Rocky Hill.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
The residents of Rocky Hill are progressive and are fully cognizant that a Freeway is of absolute necessity.

However, because a community is small is no reason for a road to result in the oblivion of our community, when, if the alignment would be moved a matter of feet, it would result in skirting the Borough entirely. Also, in view of the fact that Franklin Township would greatly benefit by its presence and has made known their desire to have said Freeway.

Thank you for your interest in the welfare and future of our community.

(Miss) GRACE A. GRIMM
Mayor of Rocky Hill

Traffic Hazard Cited.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
"A hazardous traffic condition exists on Route 27." This was written recently in the papers and may have caused some civic rustle.

Today it has become a screaming headline. Death occurred suddenly to Herbert W. Voorhes, State Farm Bureau president, at the most dangerous sector (Stanwood Road and Route 27) of the area which the Kendall Park Civic Association is petitioning the State Highway Department to designate as a no-passing, 35-mile-limit traffic zone.

This was a great loss to the man's family, state and country. Could this tragic accident have been prevented?

It is sad and strange to relate, but preventive means always seems to come a little too late. Someone must be killed, maimed, or badly hurt before measures are taken to correct the causes contributing to these needless situations.

Over 45 Kendall Park volunteers have been working at all spare time in the past two weeks

Community Notebook

Radio station WPRB, operated by Princeton undergraduates and audible to town residents on FM, will broadcast free of charge announcements of non-commercial events sponsored by civic, religious and educational organizations. The new service, to be called "The Community Notebook," was announced by Roger H. Frazier, the station's business manager.

Announcements to be broadcast may be mailed to WPRB, Princeton, N. J., or telephoned to the station's business office, WA 4-0788, between 4:30 and 6 on Monday through Thursday afternoon. Mr. Frazier requests that announcements be given to the station several days in advance of the desired broadcast time.

to have the Civic Association petition refiled for the State Highway Department. As of the date of the accident they had obtained 478 signatures, after canvassing one-third of all the homes in Kendall Park.

It would be a fitting tribute to the sad passing of a distinguished public servant if the State Highway Department would act before the petition arrives. Other lives in the future could be saved by the example of this deplorable accident which might have been avoided.

worked with conscientious mem- bers of former Township Boards and Committees. Owners of acre- age adjoining non-conforming lots will be reluctant to sell acreage just so that someone caught in a "squeeze" can increase his lot.

After all, how many non-con- forming lots are there in the two- acre zone? Of these how many are already over an acre? I be- lieve that the number of non- conforming lots in that zone is so few that the installation of a few additional septic tanks with modern disposal fields would not en- danger the health of residents of that area.

It would seem advisable for the Board of Health to CAUSE to be brought up to date many an- tiquated disposal systems which are inadequate for the load of bath- rooms, dishwashers, automatic laundries and garbage disposals added to existing homes over a period of years. Since the first septic tank was installed in Princeton Township, has the Building Department insisted on a larger disposal field each time a building permit was issued to add another bathroom to a house?

If there is the possibility of a sewage system to serve the en- tire township I would be willing to stop sale of my own lots for three years. However, an individ- ual lot owner who wishes to build now should not be denied the right to build while the Town- ship formulates and puts into ef- fect plans for a sewage system.

Let us hope that members of various Township Boards will respect the decisions and judg- ment of previous Boards so that there need be no cause to har- ass property owners by attempts to impose retroactive rulings.

SWINGING DOORS OPEN

At Charcoal Lodge, The Charcoal Lodge, formerly The Coffee Shop on Route One at the Penn Neck traffic circle, will open Monday at 8 a.m. Featuring a frontier swinging lodge decor, it will specialize in food for men "and their ladies." Beef sandwiches, charcoal and barbecue items will be featured and the Lodge will be open daily until midnight.

Approximately 40 persons can be seated in the enlarged dining area and 40 cars can be parked in the blacktop area outside. The building, formerly white, has been stained dark mahogany outside and in. True to western fashion, the outside doors are swinging "saloon" doors, painted bright mustard. The same color provides the accent inside.

Several mounted animals have been used in the enlarged interior. There are two giant moose here, a mounted brace of pheasants, a red fox and the head of a deer. Red leather cushions have been used for the benches that run around the walls, and small reproductions of kerosene lamps provide lighting on the natural wood tables.

A feature of the Lodge is a large map of the Route One area, showing the location of all retail establishments from the Tire Council of America on the north to Curran-Wright on the south.

The Charcoal Lodge is owned by Robert Sauber and his manager is William Bauer. Henry Hatcher and Son, of Princeton, did the remodeling.

TIGER AIM HIGHER
Bull Team Eyes First Place.
It is mathematically possible for Princeton's baseball team to take undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Intercollegiate League by Saturday afternoon. Always a mixed up affair because of the short season and inevitable rain-outs, the race is as wide open at this stage of the schedule as any within memory.

Primary factor in achieving the major scramble is the fact that every team has lost at least once. Since it is the "games lost" column that carries the most weight, three teams—Penn, Yale and Harvard—are all but eliminated.

Even Columbia, with a 3-2 mark, is in trouble. The Lions were league leaders a week ago but dropped games to Yale and Cornell and must win their last four to stand much of a chance in the brief nine-game round-robin.

Cornell held first place for 24 hours after it trounced the Lions, only to fall victim to a 3-0 shut out hurled Saturday by Princeton's Herman Belz. It was the big righthander's second whitewash job of the season, and he has now allowed only four earned runs in the last 27 innings he has pitched.

Chances of Princeton's holding the lead alone by Saturday afternoon are slim, since the other outfits, with a victory apiece, will have to split their weekend contests. Navy and Brown each play twice, and if the Bruins sweep their pair, the Tigers could actually lose ground.

Biggest need for the pennant contenders in the stretch run will be ability to produce two winning pitchers, since no team has a schedule in which one hurler can work every game. With Bill Douglas and Wally Phillips both having shown well behind Herm Belz, the Tigers are well equipped in this fashion, but must back them with topflight defensive play. If errors had not undermined Douglas in the 3-2 loss to Army, Princeton would now be leading the league.

Belz Shows Fine Control. A pitcher who allows only two runners to get as far as second base and only six to get on base at all has thrown a real shut out. That's what Herm Belz did at Ithaca Saturday, yielding four singles and one walk, with the sixth man getting aboard on an error.

Ken Murray's sacrifice flies in the seventh and ninth innings each drove a run across, with Mike Ippolito and Carl Belz working a double steal for the Tigers' other marker. Bill McMillan and Dick Edie (See "We Congratulate" page 24) each collected two blows in Princeton's seven-hit attack, with good infield play helping to nail down the triumph.

Earlier in the week, the Orange and Black dropped Temple from the unbeaten ranks when sophomore Wally Phillips beat the Owls, 7 to 3. The contest was called after seven innings because of darkness.

An 11-hit attack off some extremely shaky Temple pitching did the trick. The Tigers shoving three runs across in the first and two more in the second to give Phillips a good cushion. It was the young lefthander's first start and he gave promise of ability that should be of considerable value during his University Field career.

DOUBLEHEADER SATURDAY
Against Harvard. A baseball-lacrosse doubleheader is on the schedule Saturday at University Field, with Harvard furnishing the opposition at both ends. The ball game will start at 1 and the lacrosse game at 4, with Princeton hoping to sweep the day's honors.

Army was too much for the lacrosse team Saturday, the Tigers losing 14 to 4 at West Point after holding the national champion cadets to a 2-all first-period tie. The Tigers began the easier part of their schedule Wednesday when they went into Ivy competition against Penn at Philadelphia, and are favored to retain the title they have won two years running.

TIGER CREWS SPLIT
Heavyweights Lose, 150's Win. The Childs Cup stayed in Pennsylvania's possession Saturday as three Quakers defeated Princeton by four lengths on New York's Harlem River. Columbia trailed the Tigers by nine.

It was Penn almost all the way in the ton-mile race, and the Red and Blue was good enough to win while understroking Princeton. Its Jayvees were also victorious by a similar margin, but the Princeton freshmen again showed convincingly by leading both Penn and Columbia across the line. Theirs, too, was a four-length triumph.

Princeton's lightweight navy opened its season at Ithaca with the variety and their variety showing the way to Cornell and the Jayvees and freshmen losing. In contrast to the "no contest" aspect of the Childs Cup regatta, all races were decided by less than a length.

The heavyweights will go after the Compton Cup on the Charles River at Cambridge this weekend. —Continued on Page 24

DICK EDIE
 Tiger Baseball Captain

As April ended a year ago, the Princeton baseball team had won only three of its first 12 games and was beginning a toboggan slide in the Eastern League that was to see it finish seventh. This season, the Tigers have won three of their first four games to pull even with the 500 mark and are tied for second place as the 1959 race enters its climactic month.

Defensive play has provided much of the answer and its "strength up the middle" that a ball team must have to win close games. The key positions, reading from the plate, are catcher, pitcher, short, second and center field.

Patrolling large areas in the perimeter of the Tiger defense, Dick Edie is a major asset to Princeton pitching. Ability to get the jump on the ball enables him to haul down virtually any fly within running distance, and he backs unusual speed with a particularly fine arm. Over a season, Edie will throw out several runners attempting to go from first to third or second to home—performances that are rare in college baseball.

into the lineup as a sophomore. A pull hitter whose target is generally right-center, he is versatile enough so that he punches some hits to left and often blasts a long ball to a junior, his extra-base collection included three home runs, one of them a grand slam against Yale.

This season, Edie is lending vital support to a still anemic Princeton attack. He is pounding the ball at a .354 clip in the Tigers' first ten games and in three league contests, has compiled a solid .417 average. Three new faces down the middle—Elmer Napkes as catcher, Bill McNitt at short and Bob Myslik at second—have done much to tighten Princeton's defensive play. Edie's fine work in center tops off the Tigers' vastly improved support of their pitchers and as the team makes its bid for the title in the stretch run, his all-around play will be a major contribution to whatever degree of success is achieved.

Harvard is favored; Massachusetts Tech, Boston University and Dartmouth are the other entries. The "tittles" will compete for the Wood Hammond Cup on the Schuylkill River at Philadelphia, facing Penn, Columbia and Yale.

TRACK MEET SATURDAY

Against Yale in the Stadium. The houseparty crowds attending athletic events this weekend will have a choice between tennis and track in the Palmer Stadium area and the action at University Field. Yale's track team, one of the best in the east, will provide the opposition against the Tigers' 2 o'clock

The Ells have far too much balance for Princeton, and are particularly strong in the running events, where the Orange and Black took three first places last week against Harvard. The Crimson won, 99 to 41, with Dick Edmunds winning both the 220 and 440 and Allan Chag the 100.

The tennis team meets Harvard at 2:30 on the Church Courts, with the Crimson favored. Coach John Conroy's team defeated Colgate and Army last weekend with the loss of only a single match, but Harvard has a much stronger outfit. The golf team, loser to Army by 4-3 on Saturday, takes on Yale at New Haven this weekend always a very tough assignment.

PAC NAMES MANAGERS

Chauncey, Cook Picked. The Princeton Athletic Club, representing this community in the Tri-County Baseball League, will be managed this season by Bill Chauncey. Pete Cook will assist.

A Harvard graduate in 1958, Chauncey played in the Crimson outfield for three seasons and also pitched. He played with the Princeton town team the summer following his graduation and since then has completed three years as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force.

town next Wednesday. There is a possibility that Bob Cooper, described by Coach Winfield Niles as "our best quarter-mile," will be able to run only in the sprints because of a leg injury.

The injury prevented Cooper from running in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia on Saturday. A PHS squad including Wyn Jennings, Arthur Barclay, Eric Fisher, and Marty McGuinn finished seventh in the class mile relay.

RAIN-OUTS INCREASE

Weather Man Prevails. Losing more than half its April games to the Weather Man, Princeton High School's baseball team was hoping for better luck in its upcoming road trips. The Little Tigers travel to Long Branch Friday and on Wednesday will play at Lawrenceville.

When rain did not interfere, an attack that has yet to flower caused the Blue and White trouble. The opening game loss to Trenton High by 1-0 was followed by a 5-3 loss to Ewing last week, in which 18 Princetonians struck out.

PHS started well, jamming all three of its runs across in the top of the first, but subsided thereafter. Bob Wiese was the mound wizard for Ewing, retiring the side on strikes from the second through the sixth.

With two away in the first, Bruce Sandvick, Jack Lackey, Jim Hawkins and Jack Rogers singled in succession and when Ewing chipped in with an error, three runs were across. However, the Blue Devils jumped on Lackey for two runs in the third, tied the game in the fifth and won the game from Hawkins, coming in relief, with another pair in the sixth.

BOWLING NOTES

High Points for Fr. Perini. Father Armando Perini of St. Paul's Church, bowling this week in the "A" League, produced the top individual game of the year (289) and the highest three-game series (718) in six years of league play at Princeton Recreation Center. His series scores were 237-289-172.

In "A" League team play, Shelton Motors (40) retained the lead slot, followed by Farr Hardware and the Tiger Garage (46) each and Knights of Columbus (44). Jack Gismelster and Al Ferrine each posted 212 games.

Tiger Bus and National Guard added two victories apiece to maintain their deadlock for first place in the "B" League at 38-11. Jefferson Plumbing (36) is third.

In the Industrial loop, Nassau Del (45) posted four wins to wrest the lead from Maier & Baldwin (44). Para Lab Supplies (43) held onto third place.

During a position-shifting week in the Women's Industrial League, Cranbury Inn (87) nailed down eight triumphs to lengthen its margin over the rest of the field. Nassau Service (79), fourth last week, moved into the runner-up slot, while Deckers (78) slipped from second to third.

Tiger Bus added six wins to jump from third to first in the Princeton's Women's League, while Cranbury Bank (75) leapfrogged from fourth to second. Last week's leaders, Town Topics and Betty Wright Shop, trail with 14 victories each.

Other notable individual scores: Joe Baldini, 255-167-256 (628); Bob Cifelli and Dick Palma, 212 each, in the "B" League; Pete Hinkson, 241; Andy Drummond, 224; Ralph Kleiber, 223; and Douglas DeCicco, 221, in the Industrial League; Marilyn Lowe, 215; Millie Trank, 209; and Peg Brown, 197, in the Women's Industrial League; and Dot Moore, 199; Elizabeth Brown, 195-170; and Doris Curran, 195, in the Princeton Women's League.

$6,917.78 RAISED

Roberts of 32 Hodge Road, chairman of the drive and member of the board of directors of Central New Jersey Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society. The sum raised is just $22 short of the goal of $7,000.

"We are still hoping for additional donations that will push us over the top," Mrs. Roberts said. Of the money raised, $3,363.66 was received through the special advance gifts appeal; $3,236.82 through the house-to-house canvass; $1,200 from the "Round The World ball; $33 from coin boxes and $46.50 from a benefit tea given by the Daughters of Scotia.

Of the amount raised, Mrs. Roberts said, $2,700 will go toward the national research program. The major part of the balance will be used for direct patient aid, such as payments for home nursing care, appliances, homemaker service and physical therapy, as well as for patient service, which includes recreation, home visiting, referral, newsletters and education.

Serving as co-chairmen of the house-to-house canvass for the drive were Mrs. Walts S. Humphrey and Mrs. Charles P. Smyth, chairmen of the "Round The World ball" were Mr. and Mrs. Minot C. Morgan, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas E. Stuart. Mrs. Martin Beck was treasurer.

By-Pass Welcome, If . . .

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS: We feel that some of your impressions may have gotten the impression from the releases which have appeared in the newspapers the couple of weeks that the citizens of Rocky Hill are opposed to the idea of the Route 206-A Bypass. This is not the case. We feel that the Bypass will fulfill a much needed service to Princeton and the surrounding communities.

The big question in our minds is will the highway BISCEP OR BYPASS Rocky Hill. We feel that the proposed alignment which has been brought to our attention would sound the death knell for our community because of our size and the increased tax burden which would be the outcome. The State needing some 34½ acres of the Borough which in its entirety occupies 400 acres. This would be the end of one of the few remaining colonial towns dating back to Washington's time and where from the balcony of Rockingham here in Rocky Hill he delivered his farewell address to the Continental Army.

We are willing to cooperate with the State Highway, Princeton, and all other involved communities to see that the Route 206-A Bypass does "the greatest good for the greatest number."

JOSPH HARRIS
Chairman, Planning Board
Borough of Rocky Hill

Useless Primaries Protested.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Vaudeville lives on! Today's greatest show on earth is the circus-horror of the election devoid of contest! For one day we become unreasoning robots conditioned to perpetuate an expensive and meaningless ritual!

The primary election's function is to grant voice to the people in the election of their candidate. Today's political leaders allow no such privilege. Some blatantly forbid others strongly discourage, but all agree "choice" of candidate is politically undesirable. They fear that "public selection" may breed political malcontents, anti-factions and party schisms. So the purpose is gone, but the ritual continues. (Calculate the expense and consider the wisdom of huge primary machines by paid personnel and delivered to, and finally, trucked from the huge sub-station school building.)

One's only recourse, the fruitless and frustrating write-in, included, in South Brunswick, Al Johnson, Fidel Castro, and many others, written in defiant protest. This show must not go on!

Congress is, finally, giving consideration to abolishing all primaries without contents. We must urge our congressmen to endorse this proposal, or we must restore to primary elections their true purpose, letting the voice of America be heard!

The admiration of all is due those few communities whose primaries, even this year, have purpose . . . political togetherness aside.
